Building for the future

Seventy-four years ago, the Washington Township Elementary School on the south bank of the White River became a high school. A two-year course, consisting of algebra, geometry, geography, rhetoric, and physics, was taught by J. S. Puett, the principal-teacher. Today, that same school is called Broad Ripple; it offers 141 courses to 1988 pupils. Ninety-nine teachers, fifty-eight of whom hold master's degrees and one of whom has earned a doctor's degree, teach these courses which range from Advanced Composition to Woodshop. The original four classrooms have grown to a now inadequate total of fifty-six. To alleviate the existing crowded conditions, ten new classrooms will be added this year with the completion of the $960,000 wing. Besides classrooms, the new wing will contain a 1200-seat auditorium, a quick-service cafeteria, modern administrative offices, and a financial office and bookstore.

Since her beginning in 1886, Broad Ripple High School has been building for the future; since 1886, Ripple has been improving methods and facilities for molding future American citizens. In 1936 she was awarded a first-class commission by the Indiana State Department of Education; in 1938 she was accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools; in 1957 she was named one of the top 44 schools in the nation; and in 1959 she was awarded a special first class commission. Today, in 1960, the year of space probes, labor strikes, and United Nations crises, Ripple is still building for the future.

Physically

Broad Ripple High School builds for the future physically. In a din of buzzing power saws, chattering air-hammers, and clanging pile drivers, Ripple's physical campus is rapidly changing. In September, 1960, with the completion of a $960,000 new wing, the number of classrooms at Broad Ripple will be raised to 61. Getting approval to begin new-addition construction was a tedious process. After a long period of working and waiting, Ripple's principal J. Fred Murphy and the Association of Parents and Teachers Building Committee saw their efforts rewarded when the Board of School Commissioners gave the "go-ahead" sign for the long-needed addition. From past dreams of enlargement are now emerging the realities of ten new classrooms, a modern auditorium, a quick-service cafeteria, new administrative offices, and a bookstore and financial office.

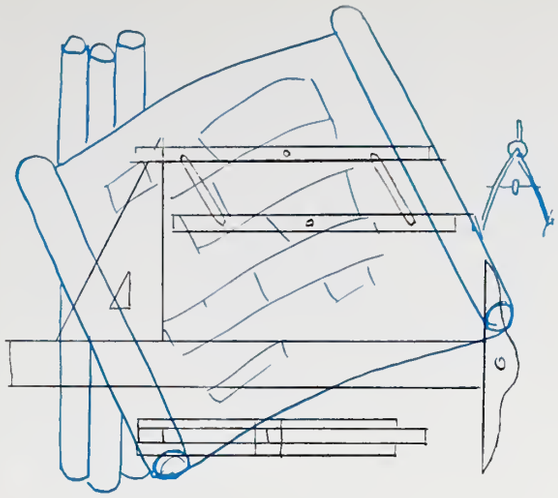
The ten new classrooms will relieve crowded conditions. Three art, two vocal music, and one mechanical drawing room will be located on the first floor of the new addition; and four language arts rooms will be located on the second floor. All these rooms will have acoustical tile ceilings and inlaid tile floors.

A modern auditorium, which will contain theater seats to accommodate 1200, will give the Broad Ripple school and community a place for programs and dramatic and musical shows. Theatrical facilities such as a large stage with overhead drop settings, a well-equipped stage-crafters' workshop, a room for property storage, and several easily accessible dressing rooms will help make productions smooth-running and professional.

Ripple's expansion will take the waiting out of school lunch lines. Beginning in the fall of 1960, students will eat in a modern cafeteria featuring four fast-moving lunch lines. The cafeteria in the older section of the building will be converted to a library, and the kitchen area will become combination reading lab and audio-visual room.

Like the students it supervises, Ripple's administration will enjoy the benefits of expansion. New administrative offices will be located on the second floor of the addition. To consolidate space, these offices will be arranged in the form of a horseshoe and will center around a communications room containing a public address system.

From cafeteria and administrative offices to auditorium and classrooms, Ripple is going modern. Creaky flooring is being replaced by rubber tiling, walnut woodwork is giving way to aluminum trim, and overhead incandescent globes are becoming fluorescent lighting fixtures. By modernizing her facilities and increasing her size, Broad Ripple High School builds for the future physically.



Construction began with groundbreaking May 26, 1959.

Beam by beam, brick by brick, nail by nail

Construction was far advanced in March, 1960; the modern architecture of Ripple's new wing casts shadows on the snow.

Surrendering to progress, the last wall of an old farm house is demolished to make room for Ripple's new wing.

Watching intently, students check on daily construction progress from the window of their third-floor classroom.

Students watch as a modern school building

Students were surprised and saddened by the sight of green branches falling past study hall windows. Sixteen of the stately trees on Ripple's east side lawn were uprooted as work progressed. A remarkable number were saved, however.

Beep beep! This "putt-putt machine" is part of the equipment necessary for the construction of the new wing. Ripplites watch with fascination as the little machine zips around the construction site with its load of mortar and bricks.

Socially

Broad Ripple High School builds for the future socially. By sponsoring a varied co-curricular program, Ripple supplies students with the opportunity to work and co-operate with one another. Learning of themselves through contact with others, developing leadership, and realizing their own worth as individuals, Ripplites fly through a whirling schedule of co-curricular activities.

Football was the focal point for fall activities. Kicking off the season was the September Football Jamboree. Ripplites yelled themselves hoarse as they backed the Rockets and got in the mood for cheering throughout the year. The Homecoming football game featured a pre-game queen-crowning and a parade of gaily decorated floats. Following the Rockets' Homecoming victory, students attended the Student Council's "Pigskin Prance," the first of many club-sponsored after-game dances. Another of these dances was the "Share the Fare Dance," profits from which will pay the expense of bringing the next exchange student to Ripple.

Also on the agenda were semi-formal dances, complete with the sophistication of name bands, boutonnieres, and swishy dresses. The Riparian publications sponsored the "Domino Dance" highlighted by the crowning of Miss and Mr. Riparian. Among other groups sponsoring semi-formals were the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs and Historical Society. The Y groups elected Miss Mistletoe at their Christmas dance; Historical Society used a valentine theme for their "Cupid Capers."

Parents, too, organized activities. The Fathers' Association sponsored a pre-game fish-fry and a Frosh Night football game, and the Association of Parents and Teachers sponsored a fall carnival. In the spring, the fathers treated students to a semi-formal dance and presented trophies to a Ripple "Joe" and "Jane."

Stage productions entertain parents and students alike and add footlight drama to the social calendar. In this year's Golden Singers' operetta, "Sweethearts" by Victor Herbert, the audience was taken on a humorous trip from a Belgian laundry to a king's castle in search for the mysterious princess of Zilania. The Ripples of 1960 featured the coronation of a queen, a pageant of American history, the New Orleans Mardi Gras, and the imaginary Kingdom of Lux. This vaudeville show is student-written and directed.

The lighter side of Ripplife percolates. It bubbles over with reigning queens, screaming Boosters, and growing friendships; it is flavored by increased maturity, improved ideals, and discarded illusions. Helping her students to develop maturity, poise, and perspective, Broad Ripple High School builds for the future socially.

Operetta rehearsals were long but enjoyable. Directors Gene Poston, Mrs. Rosalee Hofmann, and Miss Ruth Bertsch contributed their time, effort, and knowledge to the Golden Singers' production of Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts"—LEFT. The accompanists present at every researsal were Donna Bush and Cindy Cunningham—MIDDLE. Romantic Leads Joyce Peace and Bill Johnson spent their few spare moments relaxing and talking shop—RIGHT.

"Here at your feet we kneel." Prince Franz and the entire chorus voice their admiration for the Brussels laundry girl who has become the monarch of the Kingdom of Zilania. "From rags to riches" was the theme carried out in the 1959 Golden Singers' operetta.

Confusion is evident at the first few Ripples rehearsals. Inexperienced performers have a lot of unlimbering, sweating, and just plain practicing to do before opening night. The Ripples of 1960 were given on March 24 and 25 before a packed auditorium.

Ripple's directors try a new tune. Linda Kitzmiller plays as Nancy Munger, Dinah Menke, Marilyn Simon, Miriam Tuchman, Mary Lou Newburn, and Penny Bowen listen.

Academically

Broad Ripple High School builds for the future academically. Attempting to meet needs of the 75 per cent of Ripplites who attend college after graduation, the growing academic program now includes college-level courses in science, mathematics, and English; calibrated courses in academic departments; and a multiple diploma plan.

The English department offers the equivalent of six years' instruction. Beginning in English I and progressing to Advanced Composition and Creative Writing, Ripplites study grammar, word usage, and literature. Future librarians and thespians may take Library Science and Dramatics. A speech course acquaints pupils with the art of public speaking, and a modern Reading Laboratory improves their reading skills.

Textbooks, films, records, and tapes help students study the French, German, Latin, and Spanish courses offered by the Foreign Language Department. Etymology, a one-semester course, links foreign languages to English.

Offering courses ranging from General Math to Calculus, Ripple's Math Department has reached the 12-semester limit of courses which an Indiana high school can offer in one department.

In eight laboratories, modernly equipped for the teaching of advanced and beginning biology, chemistry, physical science, and physics, Science Department students study and put into practice the laws of kinetic energy, atomic structure, and classification of plants and animals.

Nine different courses are offered in Ripple's Social Science Department. Through classes in economics, history, government, geography, and psychology, students acquire knowledge of the past and present and gain the ability and insight to cope with the problems of the future.

Manual, domestic, and business training are given to students in Ripple's three practical arts departments. Mechanical drawing, foods, and typing are among the courses offered.

Building better physical and mental faculties is the purpose of Ripple's ROTC and Physical Education Departments. Health classes teach hygiene and community living, while Driver's Education classes teach driving safety and skills.

Ripple's fine arts departments stimulate student creativity. Ceramics, jewelry, and general and craft art are offered by the Art Department, while the Music Department offers both instrumental and vocal courses and draws a larger student enrollment than any other city music department.

Molding the students of today, Broad Ripple High School shapes the citizens of tomorrow.

Ripple's thinclads post 7-2 season record,

Winning the city championship and tying for eighth in the State Meet, the 1959 track team brought honor to Broad Ripple and its second-year coach, Dave Martin. Besides compiling a victorious record in dual- and tri-team meets, the tracksters were successful in the Hoosier Relays and the Sectional and State Meets.

In the season-opener, the Rockets met Ben Davis and the University High School of Bloomington at Indiana University. The Ripplites captured all 13 firsts; outstanding performances came from Bob Shorter, who took the 60-yard dash, high hurdles, and low hurdles, and Art Campbell, who won the mile and the half-mile.

Back at the I. U. Fieldhouse the next week, the Rockets participated in the eleventh annual Hoosier Relays. Competing against 59 other Indiana high schools, Dick Crowell, Don Poland, Gunar Grubaums, and Campbell combined to win the distance medley relay, which consisted of a combination of the 220- and 440-yard dashes and the half-mile and mile runs.

In the first place junior "Flash" Art Campbell strides down the stretch of a record-breaking 4:27.7 mile. Standing on the sidelines, Coach Dave Martin gets ready to punch his stop watch when Campbell crosses the finish line.

The Martin-men then took a well-earned victory from the nest of the Howe Hornets, 65⅔-43⅓. Shorter tied the 15.2 school record in the high hurdles and also copped the low hurdles and the high jump. Grubaums won two blue ribbons, one for the 220-yard dash and one for the broad jump.

Tech's powerful Greenclads subdued the tracksters by a narrow margin of 60-57. The Rockets won nine firsts in this meet, among them a 4:27.7 mile by Campbell, which broke the school record and stood as the best state time until the State Meet. Leroy Blocher and Bob Friedline took the 440 and 880, respectively. John Strickland won the shot-put, and Don Atkinson won the pole vault. Ripple failed to capture enough second and third places to win, however.

The next week they rebounded to win the city championship, nosing out Shortridge by a mere five points. In winning, the cindermen broke three city records and tied two. Shorter broke a 21-year-old record in the low hurdles with a time of 20:1, and Campbell shattered the city mile record with 4:29.6 and the school half-mile mark with 2:01.7. Poland tied the city and broke the school 100-yard dash record with a time of 10 flat which exceeded the former mark by $^{3}/_{10}$ of a second. Grubaums brought home a third in the broad jump. The climax came when the Ripple half-mile relay team composed of Mickey Matthews, Grubaums, Shorter, and Poland set a city and school record of 1:32.2 and easily won their event.

On the heels of their city championship, the track squad captured their third straight Broad Ripple Invitational. Scoring at least one man in each event, Ripple took an early lead. Netting two of three trophies, the Rockets broke records in the mile, the 220, and the 880-yard relay.

Firsts went to Shorter in the high and low hurdles, Campbell in the mile and half-mile, Strickland in the shot-put, and Grubaums in the broad jump. Also gaining a first was Poland, who took a blue ribbon in the 220-yard dash, but bowed to a Shortridge runner in the 100. Grubaums, Matthews, Shorter, and Poland copped the 880-yard relay. Ripple compiled 68¾ points while Shortridge, Ben Davis, and Washington compiled respective scores of 50¾, 22¼, and 18¼.

The squad then traveled to Richmond where the Red Devils administered the second and last defeat of the regular season, 55-52. Strickland broke the 50-foot mark in the shot-put with a 50-foot-6-inch toss. Ripple lost a fatal number of points in the hurdle events because Shorter, injured in an earlier meet, was unable to participate. The Rocket cindermen ended the season with wins over Columbus, 80-37, and North Central, 77½-39½.

In the Sectionals, Shortridge edged Ripple by a narrow margin, 40-39⅓. Once again injury plagued the Rockets as Poland pulled a leg muscle in a trial run and was eliminated from all events. Shorter, who had recovered from his injury, set a new school record in the lows by breaking the tape in a time of 20.4; however, his time of 15.5 in the highs did not equal his previous best, 15.2. Campbell won both the mile and half-mile, brisking the mile course in 4.32 to set a new mark. With Poland out of the furlough, Grubaums captured second in the 220 and fourth in the broad jump. Strickland won the shot-put easily, and Don Atkinson tied with the Deaf School's John Strelsky for first in the pole vault.

Ripple qualified nine boys for the Regionals held at Tech. Shorter ran the high hurdles in 15 flat breaking his own record of 15.2; however, he had to settle for second place in the low hurdles. Campbell captured the mile with a run of 4:29.1 but took a close second in the half-mile. Grubaums placed third in the 220-yard dash, and shot-putter Strickland copped a fourth place which was good enough to send him on to the finals. In the pole vault, Don Atkinson tied for second place. The absence of Poland in the dash events was noticed as the Rockets placed third in the meet.

Clearing the bar with room to spare, junior Don Atkinson captures first in the pole vault event of the Ripple Invitational. Atkinson tied for first in the Sectionals.

At the State Meet, Campbell's mile was clocked unofficially at 4:26.7; but he placed sixth behind an exceptionally fast field. Shorter came in fourth in the high hurdles and second in the lows, while Grubaums placed fourth in the 220-yard dash.

The reserves, handicapped by a lack of runners, posted a 2-5 record. Victories were over Crispus Attucks and Shortridge; losses were to Tech, Howe, Richmond, Washington, and North Central.

In spite of record-breaking performances, the frosh compiled a season record of 0-5. Miler Dave Snapp and the two-mile relay team, composed of Bill Hazel, Mike Cronin, Jerry Jeske, and Snapp, set new school records in their respective events. The frosh placed sixth in the City Meet.

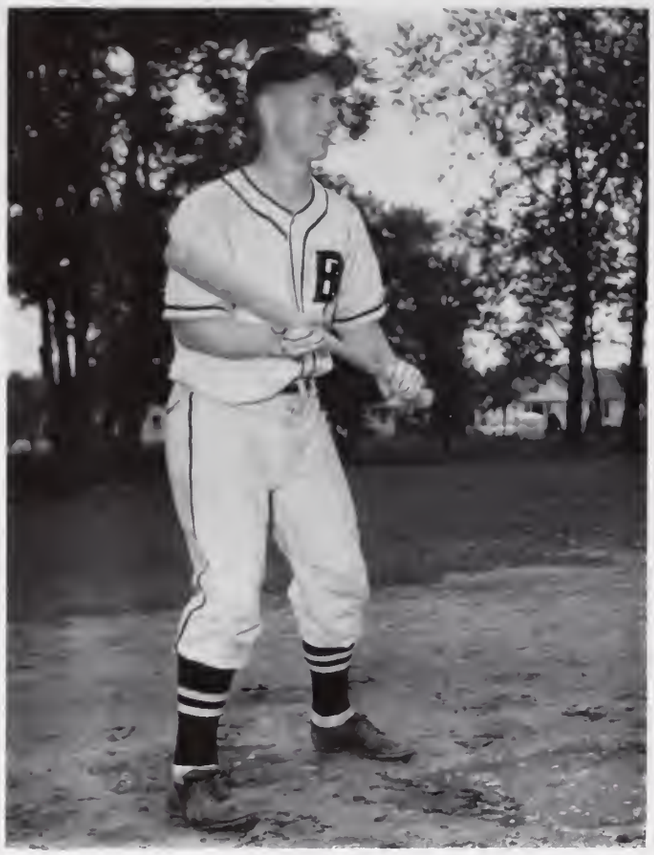
Rocket bat-and-ballers



Smiling confidently as he prepares to bunt is Jack Keller, Ripple's ace catcher and leading home run hitter.

Ripple's bat-and-ballers wrapped up their 1959 season with a record of 13 wins and 3 losses. Under the coaching of Frank Baird, the Rockets lost only two games in city play and came within one run of the city championship.

The Rockets were right on target in their first three games. Sparked by the pitching and hitting of Jerry Barlow, the Bairdmen won their season-opener by thumping Ben Davis, 8-3. Next, the Rockets zeroed in on Zionsville. Bill Stoelting pitched five hitless innings, and the diamondmen shut out the hapless Eagles with a score of 15-0. Smashing two homers, Joe Kertis led the hitting; Keller followed with a single round-tripper. Ripple won its third tilt of the season by whipping Greenfield, 18-6. Later, a blow from Anderson knocked the Rockets out of orbit. Taking advantage of eight Ripple errors, Anderson won a 9-6 decision. Jan Merritt's first homer of the season was not enough to combat the 11 Anderson singles.

Defeat served as a tonic, and the Orange and Black embarked on a six-game winning streak. Lawrence Central and Crispus Attucks lost to the Rockets with scores of 3-1 and 6-4, respectively; and the Rockets trounced Scecina's Crusaders, 2-1, in an exciting eight-inning game. Next, Stoelting shut out Howe's Hornets, 2-0, thus raising his four-game strike-out total to 38.

At Broad Ripple Park, Manual encountered a barrage of Rocket hits and lost, 11-4. The next week, Decatur Central was turned back, 5-0, in another Stoelting shutout. In this game, Floyd Edwards led the batting with two triples and a double. Winamac, coached by 1945 Ripple grad Dee Baker, was the victim of the diamondmen's fourth shutout. This time the score was 3-0; Jerry Barlow took the mound and was aided by homers from Jack Keller and Fred Schlegel. At Rhodius Park, the bat-and-ballers rolled over Washington's Continentals, 6-4. The next day, however, the winning streak was halted when Shortridge brought the Rockets to a fizzling stop with a 14-0 win.

With only Tech and Cathedral blocking them from the city championship, the Rockets beat the Tech Greenclads, 8-2, and thus eliminated them from the ranks of undefeated in city competition. The following day, however, the Bairdmen's hopes for the championship were crushed as Cathedral's

Irish scored twice in the sixth inning and won the game and the city championship by a score of 2-0.

Finishing the season, the varsity took a win from North Central, avenging a 5-0 shutout suffered at Panther hands during the 1958 season. Jerry South, Central's fast-balling pitcher, was thwarted; and the Rockets pulled out a 1-0 score.

The reserve diamondmen, under the coaching of Bill Sirka, racked up a 4-1 season record. The red hot Rocket reserves whizzed by Scecina, 15-0; Howe, 14-5; Manual, 16-9; and Tech, 18-4. The only loss occurred in an eight-inning game with Ben Davis. With Jim Pontius on the mound, the Orange and Black entered the eighth with the score tied 11-11. Ben Davis scored, and the Rockets lost a hard-fought battle, 12-11. Top reserve sluggers were John Crawford and Ken Young. Most of the B-team pitching was handled by sophomore Gary Hafner and freshman Randy Minniear.

The frosh closed out their season with two wins, one tie, and no losses. The "greenies" posted wins over Ben Davis, 4-2, and over Howe, 10-2. The freshmen came closest to defeat in their last game, tying the Shortridge Blue Devils, 3-3.

Racketmen show power in City Tournament

by Dave Larson

The Ripple tennis squad, coached by Robert Hougham, ended the 1959 season with a 3-6 record. Off to a slow start, the squad lost its first five meets. Anderson beat the netters, 7-0; and Park and Tech followed with identical 6-1 wins. The Cathedral Irish and the Howe Hornets then outpointed the Rockets by 5-2 and 4-3 scores, respectively. As the season progressed, the racketmen started winning. Archrival Shortridge was conquered, 4-3, to end an 11-year losing streak in competition with the Blue Devils. The Orange and Black went on to trounce Crispus Attucks, 7-0, and Ben Davis, 5-2. North Central's Panthers won the last meet of the year by a one-point margin, 4-3.

Bernie Stein, who won five of his nine matches, and Andris Rozite, who won four of his six matches, proved themselves to be the most consistent winners for the Rocket racketmen. John Hedberg, Dave Larson, and Dave Epstein contributed the rest of the team's victories in singles competition, while Hedberg and Rozite combined to win three of four attempts in doubles play.

In the City Tourney, four of Coach Hougham's netters advanced to the final round. Stein, playing in the number one division, was barely subdued by city champion Russ Helft of Tech. Hedberg, playing in the number three division, placed second. Epstein and Rozite teamed to cop second in the number two doubles division.

Hedberg, Larson, Dave Ressler, and Dale Delaney, along with promising sophomore Bo Danner, will represent Ripple on the courts in 1960. Hedberg is the lone returning letterman.

Finishing their seasons with 12-1-1 and 6-2 records, respectively, the golf and cross country teams each compiled outstanding season records.

Coach John Williams' golf squad was considered city champion for 1959. Following a 11-7 win over Shortridge in the season-opener, the linksmen gained a 9-9 tie with North Central. The Rockets then crushed Tech and Terre Haute Wiley in the Tech Invitational. Posting dual-match victories over Ben Davis, 15 1/2-2 1/2 and Howe, 8-4, the Rockets maintained their unblemished record.

The Rockets had to settle for second place in the City-County Meet. The picture was brightened, however, as junior Russ Kohlman captured medalist honors. Following this meet, the teesters' only defeat was administered by West Lafayette in a triangular meet which included Washington. During the rest of the season, the Rockets defeated Lawrence Central twice, 8-0 and 11-2, and rolled over Washington, Carmel, Manual, and Warren Central with respective scores of 10-8, 18-0, 9-0, and 14 1/2-3 1/2. Despite a good city showing, the team placed fifth in the Sectionals.

Reserve golfers went undefeated. They won over Shortridge, 10 1/2-1 1/2; North Central 4-4; Ben Davis, 8-0; Washington, 7-5; West Lafayette, 5-1; Washington, 8 1/2-3 1/2; and Lawrence Central, 8-0. With the final victory, the Reserve divotmen posted a 7-0-1 season record.

Coached by Mordie Lee, the cross country team opened the season by beating Zionsville and losing to Tipton. Paced by Art Campbell, the hill-and-dalers then romped over North Central, Richmond, Washington, and Ben Davis but lost to Manual.

In invitational meets, the Rockets won the six-way Ripple Invitational by trouncing Crispus Attucks, Cathedral, Scecina, North Central, and Ben Davis. The team finished fourth in the Howe Invitational and tenth in the Shortridge Invitational. They closed the season with fourth in the City Meet and an eleventh in the Sectionals.

The reserve harriers won over Richmond and Washington and bowed to Howe and Ben Davis. In the Reserve City Meet, Howard Ropp captured first place and the team took fourth.

For the third consecutive year, Mordie Lee's "greenies" captured the freshman city cross country championship. Joe Lopez led the way in this meet and placed first with a time of 8:14.

Explosive opponents thwart Rocket gridsters

by Bill Reichert

Six was an unlucky number for Ripple gridsters this year. The varsity, reserve, and freshman football teams each ended losing seasons with a tally of six defeats.

In city play, varsity gladiators, under the coaching of Bob Brown, lost to Howe, Washington, Cathedral, and Shortridge; in non-city play, they bowed to Kokomo and Richmond. The fact that all these teams were ranked high in the state did little to lighten the sting of defeat. Ripple's cup was somewhat sweetened, however, when the Rockets gained a 26-19 victory over ex-city champ Manual and thus avenged a 54-7 thumping suffered at Redskin hands in 1958-59.

Ripple traveled to Kokomo for the varsity season-opener and there suffered a 19-0 clawing by the Kokomo Wildcats. Back Clarence Foster, the Wildcat's wildman, turned in scoring gallops of 69 and 74 yards to give Kokomo more than enough touchdowns to badly beat the Rockets. The success of Foster and other Kokomo backs was indicative of a defensive weakness which was to plague the squad during the rest of the season.

The Rockets won their next two games, downing Tech and Scecina in succession. Conversions made the Rockets victors over Tech. Although both teams made two touchdowns, extra points put the Rockets ahead, 14-12. After Ripple's first touchdown, John Hobson made a diving catch of Tom Withrow's pass, thus making the score 7-12. Keller then scored to push Ripple ahead, 13-12; and Doug Miller kicked the second PAT. The Orange and Black next defeated a visiting Scecina team, 19-14. In this encounter, Keller scored two touchdowns on runs of 8 and 27 yards. The other Ripple tally came when tackle Nelson Quick grabbed a loose football and sprinted 61 yards for a touchdown.

The grid iron got too hot for the Rockets when the Richmond Red Devils administered a 41-13 roasting. Jerry Sellers racked up four touchdowns and booted three PAT's to lead Red Devil scoring with 27 points. Ripple scored twice, once when Bob Stewart broke loose for 80 yards and once when Steve McCuen passed to Rod Young.

The Rockets never left the launching pad during their next two games as both Howe and Washington held them scoreless. Howe's Darlan Billups was largely responsible for the Hornets' 19-0 win over Ripple. Billups scored with runs from the 2- and 28-yard lines and kicked one extra point. The Continentals' 20-0 win was a prime example of how the Rockets could lose even though they outgained their opponents in yardage and downs. The Rockets had 210 yards from scrimmage, while Washington had 186. The Orange and Black also had a 21-5 edge in first downs. Nonetheless, the Continentals won on touchdown carries of 49, 53, and 80 yards and by a score of 19-0.

The Rockets got into orbit when they scalped Manual's Redskins 26-19. It was a case of sweet revenge, as the Redskins had beaten Ripple, 54-7, during the preceding season. In the first half, John Crawford booted the pigskin half the length of the field. A Manual back bobbled the ball, and Bill Stoelting fell on it in the end zone. Later, Crawford scored two touchdowns.

Cathedral, destined for an unbeaten season and the city championship, handed the Rockets their next defeat. Led by Mike McGinley's three touchdowns, the Irish took advantage of the breaks and soon chalked up a winning score of 33-6.

Closing in on a Manual ball carrier, senior Phil Hedrick races to insure Don Poland's initial tackle. The Rockets won this encounter from ex-city champion Manual, 26-19. This victory was sweet revenge for a 1958-59 defeat.

FOOTBALL . . .

The varsity played its final game against arch-rival Shortridge. Using the pitch-out play to perfection, Jack Keller led the Rockets to a 20-13 lead at the end of the half. In the second half, however, defensive problems began; and the Blue Devils moved the ball too well for Ripple to hold them. The game ended with the score 32-20 in favor of Shortridge, and the Rockets bowed to the Blue and White for the first time in six years.

The varsity amassed a season scoring output of 98 points. Earning almost half the 98 was high-scorer Jack Keller with a total of 44. Other high-pointers were Bob Stewart, 13, and John Crawford, 12. Stewart, Buddy Krause and Phil Hedrick won honorable mention in all-city ratings.

This year's varsity will be much depleted by graduation. Backfielders Don Poland, Wally Scott, Stoelting, and Tom Withrow and linemen Jim Baldwin, Hedrick, Krause, Miller, Quick, and Padget will graduate in '60. Returning lettermen will be Dave Boots, Crawford, Walt Grills, John Hobson, Randy Minniear, Emerson Moore, and Stewart.

Anderson, 8-7, and past Manual, 27-20. The Manual victory was the last, however, as the gridsters finished their season with a six-game losing streak. The reserves were plagued by poor second halves and bowed to Tech, 13-0; Scecina, 12-6; Washington, 33-20; Howe, 12-6; Shortridge, 13-12; and Cathedral, 39-6. Dan White and Ron Albright led reserve scoring with 20 and 18 points, respectively.

The frosh gridsters also began their season with a win. Coach Earl Dose's "greenies" defeated Howe's frosh 7-6 in their opening tilt, and then were shut out by Scecina, 21-0; Washington, 19-0; Shortridge, 21-0; Manual, 13-0; and Cathedral, 21-0. In the last game, the frosh beat Tech, 14-13.

Ripple's varsity matmen racked up a sizzling 1959-60 record of 11-3-0. After a victory-filled season, Coach Bill Sirka's grunt-and-groaners copped both the city and sectional crowns for the second year in a row and placed fourth in the Regionals and third in the State Meet.

By outpointing defending state champ Shortridge, 101-85, Ripple secured the city championship and more than made up for a 31-15 scorching administered by the Blue Devils the week before. First places were taken by Jim Herald, Terry Gernstein, and Mike Cooney. Sam Antonelli gained a third; Dave Morris and Nelson Quick, a fourth.

Again overcoming Shortridge, the Orange and Black captured their second consecutive Sectional victory with a score of 111-102. First-place winners were Antonelli, 112 pounds; Herald, 120; Gernstein, 133; and Jim Loeper, 138. Secondary ribbons were presented to Dick Stevens, Don and Doug Atkinson, and Cooney. Thirds were taken by Darryl Kladden, Steve Smith, and Quick.

In the Regionals at Bloomington, Loeper, Doug Atkinson, and Herald all copped second places. Both Stevens and Gernstein dropped out in the semi-final round. Stevens lost by a referee's decision; and Gernstein, by a 7-5 count.

Atkinson and Herald took first places in the State Meet at Southport. Loeper, Ripple's third state contestant, won a fourth place ribbon. As a team, the Rockets captured a third.

Compiling excellent individual season records were Herald, 20-5-1; Antonelli, 19-3; Gernstein,

The B-team defeated Tech, 44-8; Scecina, 51-5; Washington, 33-23; Wood, 21-17; Howe, 27-19; Manual, 27-21; Richmond, 44-3; and Kokomo, 31-12. Highlighting the reserves' season was a long awaited victory over the Shortridge Blue Devils. With a score of 31-19, Shortridge bowed to the Rocket reserves for the first time in five years. During the season, the Jesseemen lost to the Ben Davis Giants by a score of 24-20 and to the Southport Cardinals by a score of 20-19.

This year's freshman team had only one official meet. Coached by Jessee, the frosh grapplers tumbled Eastwood 46-10. The surprise of the season came when, despite a lack of experience, freshman Martin Alig captured the reserve City Tourney title in the 112-pound division. Roundballers travel to sectional semi-finals, Ripple's netters advanced to the semi-final round of the 1960 Sectional Basketball Tourney. After drawing a bye in the first round, the Rockets began their sectional battle in the quarter-finals. As they conquered Washington's Continentals, 67-53, the roundballers racked up a .380 firing average and reversed a regular season defeat. In the semi-finals, the Rockets were given a good chance to topple Charlie Maas' Tech team. However, the Orange and Black fell far behind in the first quarter; and after the gap had been closed to six points in the last quarter, desperation attempts resulted in many fouls. Tech took advantage of the situation by sinking 18 charity tosses and extinguished the Rockets, 67-58. Highlight of early sectional action was Shortridge's 69-56 win over Crispus Attucks.

Senior Jack Keller culminated his high school basketball career with 48 points in the two sectional games. These points gave him an accumulative total of 783 for three years, a 27-point increase over Chuck Holle's 1956-58 record of 756 points. Keller, who had a season scoring average of 17.2 points per game, was named to the Indianapolis Star's All-Sectional Team.

The Rockets began their regular season on a win-loss see-saw. The first game was a 64-46 victory over the Lawrence Central Bears. Then came a 63-52 loss in the first hardwood contest between the Rockets and the North Central Panthers, Ripple's archrivals and northside neighbors. The see-saw was really bouncing as the Rocket cagers rolled over Decatur Central, 31-20; lost to Ben Davis, 73-69; and defeated Sacred Heart and Howe with scores of 63-49 and 73-66, respectively.

In the City Tourney held during the Christmas vacation, the Manual Redskins scalped the Rockets, 74-46. Following the holidays, Manual again bounced the roundballers, this time 66-50.

The Rockets found their range in the next contest. Shooting .492, their best percentage of the season, they beat Richmond, 68-50. They lost the next two games by one-point margins. Cathedral's Irish won a hard-fought battle, 55-54; and two days later, the Scecina Crusaders eked out a 69-68 victory in the last 10 seconds of the game.

Fired up by the two losses, the Rockets blasted Warren's Warriors to defeat, 86-48. The victory was marred, however, by Tom Withrow's injury in the first quarter of the contest.

The upset of the season occurred when Ripple downed county champ Southport, 71-67. Surprising the experts, the Rockets were only four points behind at the end of the first half. In the second half, the hoopsters amassed a nine-point lead, chased the Cardinals up a tree, and held the hapless champs at bay until the final buzzer.

A defensive letdown caused the Rockets to lose their next game. Washington's Continentals beat them soundly in a 69-59 clash on the Washington floor. The next week, the squad traveled to Greenfield and administered a 93-50 licking. Two records were set as the netters brought home 93 points, a new team scoring total, and John Hedberg chalked up 29 points, the season's best individual single-game scoring total.

Ripple traveled to Tech and defeated the Greenclads, 65-56. Using a four-man zone with Wally Scott covering Mel Garland, the city's top scorer, Ripple outplayed Tech in all categories. Jack Keller, who dumped in 25 points, led the Rocket upset of the future regional champs.

Football began fall intramural activities. Mob dominated the gridiron by plowing through the regular season undefeated and then upending Gents, 28-18, in the championship game. Close behind Gents, the Bone Crushers won third.

Intramural tennis was next on the schedule. Dave Larson won the singles title by defeating Dale Delaney, 1-6, 7-5, and 6-3. Dave Ressler and Larson captured the doubles crown when they downed David Barnes and Len Bochicchio.

Cold weather brought intramural activities indoors; basketball and bowling were the winter sports. Mob I monopolized the hardwood by remaining undefeated in 13 league games. Srellik Bom placed second with a near-perfect 12-1 slate, while Gents I and Mob II tied for third place with 10-3 records. In the championship game, Mob I edged Srellik Bom, 28-24. In the frosh intramural league, the Spartans took the title with a 9-3 record and were followed closely by the Crushers.

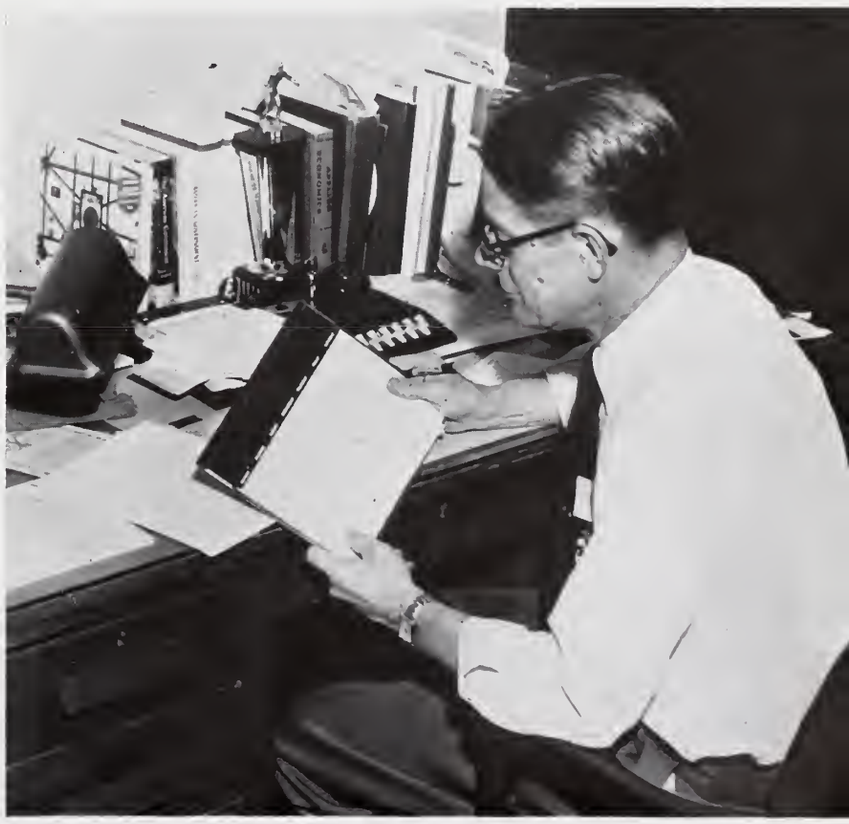
Zeb I took first place in the intramural bowling league, posting a 18-4 season mark. Team members were Jim Boggs, Brad Eastman, Tom Hedberg, and Steve Zimmerman. The Monarchs, captained by Harry Stitle, placed second, with the Satellites and the Unpredictables tying for third position.

Hedberg copped the league individual championship with a 175 average and also had the season high of 425, without handicap, for two games. Eastman finished second, carrying an average for the season of 157.

Jack Keller, Ripple football, basketball, and baseball star, showed unsuspected prowess by winning the table tennis singles title and then teaming with Wally Scott to take the doubles.



Examining the calendar, Athletic Director Kyle Peters checks the schedule of the 1960-61 sports activities.

Looking over the Ripple trophy case are Lettermen's Club officers Buddy Krause, Emerson Moore, and Wally Scott.

Guys and gals enjoy

Ripple's athletes, male and female, pursue interests ranging from basketball to table tennis by participating in the projects of the Lettermen's Club and Girls' Athletic Association.

Ripple athletes who have earned letters by excelling in varsity sports competition form the Lettermen's Club which is sponsored by Charles Leamon. Besides contributing to athletics, the club managed a basketball and football accuracy toss booth at the APT Carnival and planned "The Varsity Drag," a dance, presented May 20.

President Emerson Moore, aided by Vice-President Buddy Krause and Treasurer Wally Scott, guided the lettermen in their projects.

Ripple's sports-minded girls to the GAA, sponsored by Miss Barbara Vargo. Twelve different sports make up the season's schedule. Basketball, volleyball, badminton, tumbling, table and deck tennis, and bowling comprise the winter program. Archery and tennis are offered both in the spring and fall; and track and field complete the spring season. Points toward membership are awarded on basis of skill tests in these activities.

In addition to after-school undertakings, GAA members actively supported a bowling play day at Kokomo, a track and softball play day at Butler, and sponsored an intramural track meet for girls on May 24. At the APT Carnival the GAA was in charge of a penny-nickel toss booth. At the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet in May, mothers of members were honored.

For accomplishments in GAA activities, points are given towards awards. By earning 50 points, girls can win membership and be eligible for initiation. Class numerals are given for 150 points; letters, for 250; state plaques, for 350; and blazers, for 500. At the annual spring awards dinner, girls in the organization are recognized for exceptional improvement and high scores.

"Only one thin dime or two fat nickels! Get your program now!" Selling football and basketball game programs is one of the many undertakings of the Key Club, sponsored by Warren K. Jackson. The 36 boys in this service honorary work energetically on such projects as the Clean-up Campaign, Freshman-Sophomore Career Day, and the year-round promotion of good sportsmanship. Key Clubbers also sponsor an annual dance, this year entitled "The Pumpkin Pounce."

Welcoming Ripple's foreign exchange student, working to achieve a successful Homecoming, presenting an annual auditorium, and co-operating with Key Club on the annual Clean-up Campaign comprise the major activities of Student Council. The Council meets once a week to discuss problems concerning school life and to hear suggestions which have been placed in the cafeteria suggestion box. Sponsored by John Morris, the Council consists of representatives from each class and serves as a link between the student body and the faculty. The Student Council's annual auditorium features talks by Ripple's AFS students, both those who have visited foreign countries and those who are visiting Ripple from foreign lands.

'Intelligentsia,' JHSers strive for high goals

by Laurie Tether

Lighting the torch of honor, Martha Susan Johnson finishes her part in the Honor Society's annual induction.

An active chapter of National Honor Society is a rare occurrence, but Ripple's "intelligentsia" have always scorned conformity. Besides attending regular meetings, members sell popcorn and ice cream at home basketball games, tutor other students, and give a Christmas party for needy hospital patients. Juniors and seniors with six-point averages and sophomores with seven-point averages are eligible for membership and are voted upon annually on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. New members are announced at an annual auditorium, and the "select few" are inducted at a spring banquet.

"Achievement" says the trophy in Ripple's main hall. At the 1959 State Junior Historical Society Convention, Ripple copped the "best chapter" trophy and Ripple's chapter president, Web Wright, was elected state president. The 60 members of the JHS and their sponsor, J. Raymond Hall, mean to keep right on achieving. On this year's agenda was an educational jaunt to Chicago, the continuation of work on a campaign button collection, and the perfection of various projects for display at the 1960 state convention.

Polishing the popcorn machine, the officers of National Honor Society, Barb Jones, Bill McClure, Jim Kelley, and Judy Gilliom, prepare for their principal money-making project, the sale of buttered popcorn and ice cream during Broad Ripple's home basketball games.

Campaign buttons collected during the past five years by members of the Junior Historical Society form an interesting display which is the pride of the club members. Admiring their unique button collection are JHS officers, Jane Uhl, Tom Ewbank, Linda Medley, and Web Wright.

Ripple's service clubs uphold school motto

by Barbara Seibert

By promoting improvement in school and community, Ripple's service clubs strive to uphold the school motto, "Broader, Richer Human Service."

All Broad Ripple girls are members of Orange Aid and contribute to the success of its projects. Each year, over 200 girls volunteer to be Orange Aid "big sisters" and show incoming freshmen through Ripple's maze of halls. The Orange Aid Tea held the second week of each semester helps newcomers get acquainted with their classmates. A style show presented at the Ripple Carnival is another Orange Aid project. Through the Orange Aid, Ripple girls are "parents" to Choo Jung, a high-school-age Korean orphan. Throughout the year, Choo receives letters and gifts from Ripplites. Mrs. Rosalind Ewing, club sponsor, helps Orange-Aiders maintain the Used Bookstore. Income from the bookstore pays for such projects as feeding needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Each spring, Orange Aid officers are elected in an all-girls' auditorium.

The Future Business Leaders of America stresses vocational planning as well as service. Speakers from the business world are a major portion of the club's yearly program. This year, members attended the State FBLA Convention, sponsored a Homecoming float, and operated a carnival booth. Service projects include Christmas donations to the Times Clothe-A-Child Program and the acquisition of new equipment for the Business Department. Miss Grace Cunningham, the club sponsor, is assisted in her duties by Miss Winifred West and Miss Jean Hoilman.

Membership in Future Nurses Club is open to girls who are interested in professional nursing. Miss Louise Rice, club sponsor and school nurse, helps the girls study nursing career opportunities. For their service project, the aspiring nurses aid the Marion County Heart Committee.

By helping others, members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y strive to set good examples of Christian living. Marching for the Muscular Dystrophy Drive and helping needy families during the holiday seasons are two service projects of these clubs. Both clubs are active in the model United Nations; but they compete separately for the Parker P. Jordan award, presented annually to the most outstanding Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y in the county. Mrs. Janet Blocker guides the girls in Tri-Hi-Y; Robert Eisenbarth is the Hi-Y sponsor.

Flower vendors, Mary Lou Riggins, Karen Fry, Sandy Hill, and Carol McElvain, officers of Future Nurses Club, sell multi-colored carnations at the annual APT Carnival.

Selling books to freshman M'Lou Gilbert are Orange Aid officers Susie Fortune, Margie Seaman, Dee Stanton, and Judy Gilliom. Orange Aid operates the Used Bookstore.

Ripple's bibliothecs, thespians, ratiocinators

by Peg Mason

Enthusiastic play readers, Bobbie Arzet, Gil Bochicchio, and Joan Benedix, consider a possible script to be used for the annual Thespian play which is given in April.

Broad Ripple's debaters, dramatists, and librarians are active in their own co-curricular clubs.

Under the supervision of Donald Fasig, members of the Debate Club and the Forensic League learn to argue politely. These Ripplites attend the Purdue Debaters' Conference and Model Legislature, seminars on forensics, and various speech and debate contests at Indiana colleges.

Ripple has two active dramatic groups. Members of the Understudies Club, sponsored by Mrs. Anne Obenchain, practice their dramatic skills by giving skits, pantomines, and short one-act plays. Many meetings feature speakers from the Indianapolis Civic Theater. Students who accumulate adequate points by participation in speech and dramatic activities earn membership in National Thespians, an honorary group sponsored by Mrs. Donna Leigh Collins. Thespians projects include an APT carnival variety show, a spring auditorium, and a three-act play.

A "literary" Christmas tree, National Book Week, and state and regional library conferences and workshops are among the projects of the Library Club sponsored by Mrs. Phoebe Diederich.

Aspiring librarians, Mary Decker, Beth Gotshall, Jane Jackson, and Elaine Augustine, are officers of the Library Club for which they are preparing a scrapbook.

Ripple clubs complement academic program

by Bob Milburn

Certain co-curricular clubs are extensions of Ripple's academic program. These clubs complement the curriculum by giving interested students extra learning opportunities.

New this year is the Creative Writing Club sponsored by Hubert Williams. This is an honorary organization for students showing special interest and aptitude in the field of writing and literature. Members meet regularly to discuss and criticize their writings and to find publishing houses or periodicals that will print their works.

Foreigneers Club members study the customs and history of the people who speak the foreign languages taught at Broad Ripple. The Foreigneers' program for the year includes correspondence with foreign pen-pals and talks by foreign exchange students about their native lands. Each year the club presents an award to a seventh-semester language student who has received straight A's during six semesters of any one language. The club, under the supervision of Miss Elaine BeVard, proposes to foster the study of foreign lands and create world understanding.

The Stamp and Coin Club, under the sponsorship of Sidney Esten, is devoted to helping philatelists and numismatologists learn more about their hobbies. Members hold regular meetings to discuss their special interests and to hear talks by outside speakers. Such matters as first day covers, precancels, and topical collections are common subjects of discussion.

The Art Club interests Ripplites in art and art appreciation and puts students' artistic abilities to use in the school and community. The members take field trips to the John Herron Art Museum and also sponsor art workshops. Sponsored by Miss Doris Brinkman, the club participates in such service projects as making favors for Christmas parties at old people's homes and orphanages.

The Math-Science Club, sponsored by Morris Taylor, offers interested students the opportunity to gain specialized knowledge in areas of math and science. Club activities include field trips and meetings featuring films, speakers, and demonstrations. The club sponsors a Ripple Science Fair and enters exhibits in the Indiana Science Fair.

"Move the prism a little to the left." Roy Pike, Dave Cahill and Mike Scherer, officers of the Math-Science Club, adjust a spectroscope so that they may better examine a neon discharge tube. The members of the Math-Science Club spend many after-school hours conducting experiments which are not possible in the classroom.

Collecting stamps and coins is the favorite but time-consuming hobby of Dave Larson, Rusty Pierce, and Alan Monroe, officers of Broad Ripple's Stamp and Coin Club.

Objects d'art are criticized by Art Club officers Judy Mattox, Barbara Olvey, Bill Cunningham, and Pam Peirce. The club works to promote interest in artistic fields.

Homecoming headaches fall away as the fun and excitement reach a peak for Creative Writing Club officers, Barb Seibert, Cindy Cunningham, and Laurie Tether.

Planning publicity to increase membership, the Foreigneers officers, Barbara Olvey, Gordon Lewis, Marilyn Wilson, and Bonnie Engel admire an eye-catching poster.

Outstanding singers mix work with pleasure

by Helen Theilig

Who said, "Work comes before pleasure"? Certainly not the Broad Ripple High School Golden Singers and Madrigals. For these songsters, work comes with pleasure as they sing under the direction of Gene Poston. These two groups presented over 36 programs during the school year.

Highlighting the year for the Golden Singers was the operetta. On the nights of November 20-21, after many hours of rehearsals, memorization, and fun, the Golden Singers presented their annual operetta to a full house. Music lovers listened and watched eagerly as the colorfully dressed cast of 40 vocalists enacted the famous love story "Sweethearts," written by Victor Herbert. Television performances, benefit programs, and the annual Christmas and spring school music presentations were other Golden Singer projects. In combination with the A Cappella Choir, the Golden Singers traveled to Washington High School for the All-City Choir Festival.

Madrigal Singers, a group of eight girls and eight boys chosen from the Golden Singers, gave over 26 performances for various organizations in the city. Without the aid of accompaniment, these students sing fifteenth century madrigals and other difficult compositions.

Music groups entertain school, community

by Julia Beaman

Entertaining the school and community and preparing for participation in higher music groups are the primary objectives of the A Cappella Choir, directed by Gene Poston, and the Girls' Concert Choir, directed by Mrs. Rosalee Hofmann. A Cappella Choir, a mixed chorus of more than 60 voices, combines with the 40 Golden Singers for public performances. The combined group, the Broad Ripple Choir, is the largest high school choir in the city. The 54-member Girl's Concert Choir is Ripple's most advanced all-girl music group. These groups perform for Ripple's Christmas and Spring Music Festivals, for various school and civic functions, and at several all-city choral festivals.

The Clef Club, a music honorary sponsored by Mrs. Hofmann, takes part in Homecoming festivities, sponsors a carnival booth, and presents a spring auditorium. Vocal and instrumental musicians audition for membership in this group.

Trying out for Clef Club are the "Offbeats" Stan Isaac, Laurie Tether, Rosanne Linville, and Steve Forbes. The quartet sings at many Ripple auditoriums and dances.

Numerous rehearsals, programs occupy time

by Carolyn Terfler

Rehearsals for such events as the Christmas program, the Orchestra Auditorium, the state contests, and the Spring Music Festival demand the time and talents of the 60 music-minded members of the Broad Ripple Orchestra. The operetta also demands hours of early-morning and late-evening practice for the 25 musicians chosen from the regular Orchestra to form the smaller Operetta Orchestra. Directed by Paul Brown, who is a member of the Indiana All-State Orchestra Committee, Ripple's Orchestra has won a first division rating in six of the past eight annual State School of Music Association Contests. An added honor came to the Orchestra when twelve orchestra members were chosen to play in the All-City High School Orchestra this year.

The Broad Ripple Dance Band, also under Mr. Brown's direction, boasts a full schedule. The 19 members of this group play for dances, the Ripples, and several of the Fathers' Association and Association of Parents and Teachers meetings.

The Radio-Hi-Fi Club offers its 35 members the opportunity to experiment with radio and hi-fi equipment. Hi-fi'ers use a stereophonic record player which they financed and built themselves.

Rocket bandsmen strut through busy season

by Peg Colvin

"Guide right, and lift those knees!" These commands are familiar to the 69 members of the Rocket Marching Band. During the football season, bandsmen practice six hours per week to prepare halftime shows for Ripple's football games.

Under the direction of Wallace A. Decker, who was assisted by Joel Marsh of Westlane Junior High, bandsmen began to learn basic marching skills and to practice for the 1959-60 season at the sixth annual summer Band Camp. The climax of this year's Band Camp was the awarding of chenille band emblems by Principal J. Fred Murphy. The 26 Ripplites receiving awards had served in the marching band for at least four semesters.

During the football season, the Band initiated a new Ripple tradition, the launching of a Ripple Rocket. The rocket, actually a hollowed-out bombshell, was launched at each home football game. Another innovation was a six-part arrangement of Ripple's school song.

Ripple's three majorettes and five flag twirlers brave cold weather and short costumes to lead Ripple's band. These girls and the drum major Tom Mueller bring fame to their school and to themselves by winning awards in the many twirling contests which they enter. The majorettes and flag twirlers are chosen by audition from members of the Baton Club, sponsored by Mr. Decker. In the Baton Club, aspiring strutters receive instruction in baton and flag twirling.

Funds for band projects were raised October 30 when the bandsmen paraded through Ripple's halls and through the Broad Ripple community selling Band Booster Tags. Proceeds paid for new Band uniforms and the launching of the Ripple Rocket and partially financed the Band Camp.

After the football season, Ripple's band becomes a concert band and plays at several school functions such as the Christmas and Spring Festivals, the annual Band Auditorium, the Ripple Round-Up, and Commencement. The band also participates in the State Band Contest. This contest rates Indiana bands according to general musicianship and technical precision.

After auditions, outstanding members of the concert band are invited to participate in the All-City Band. This year seven bandsmen represented Ripple in the All-City Band.

Members of the Broad Ripple concert band are chosen by audition with the director, Wallace Decker.

Melody makers Gene Gjesvold and Jim Kelley compose the score for part of a half-time band show performed by Ripple's marching Rockets during the football season.

Ripple's strutters lead the marching band. Standing are flag twirlers Barb Chambers, Judi Talbot, Judy Martin, Judy Pounds, and Susie Zollinger and drum major Tom Mueller. Kneeling are majorettes Judy Jupin, Marilyn Henzie, and Charlotte Roeder. Between them these talented Ripplites have won 98 medals and 16 trophies.

Staffers from editor to reporter work together

by Barb Jones

Pasting up pages for the Riparian Newspaper are its co-editors-in-chief Dave Phillips and Barb Jones. These busy staffers spend every spare minute working on page layouts, reading proofs, or taking copy to the printer.

"You don't have to be crazy to work here, but it helps." This is one of the mottos found on the signs hanging in the Riparian Newspaper Office. One hundred "crazy" staffers from the Spudnut Editor to Editors-in-Chief have their parts in the production of the award-winning Riparian Newspaper. This year, for the eleventh consecutive year, the newspaper, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs and Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes, won Quill and Scroll's Honor Rating.

Nine reporters are the backbone of the newspaper staff. Each reporter gathers news by covering a weekly beat. He then submits his stories to the copy desk to be copyread and headlined. Making tentative page layouts, fitting stories to their allotted space, and checking for last-minute mistakes are only a part of the hectic scramble as editors race to meet the weekly Thursday deadline.

After the copy has been set on galley sheets and has been proofread for errors, the page editors pin up and paste up their pages and once again send them off to the printer. Page proofs, which are read Tuesday evenings, are the final check before the finished product is distributed in the homerooms on Thursdays.

The advertising staff provides income for the newspaper by selling ads to local merchants.

Quill and Scroll honors 'best' Riparianites

by Gretchen Stahl

Journalists, photographers, and business managers who do outstanding work on the Riparian Yearbook, Newspaper, News Bureau, or Photo Staff are elected to Quill and Scroll, an international journalistic honorary. Twice yearly, juniors and seniors are elected to this group.

This year, Quill and Scroll, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs, participated in the APT carnival and held a banquet for new members.

"Move a little to the left!" "Wait!" "There, that's just what I want—now hold it!" Photo Staff members struggle to get just the right pose for a picture. Under the supervision of sponsor Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes, these shutterbugs take over 80% of the pictures for the Riparian publications.

Other groups vital to the production of the Ripparian are the circulation and exchange staffs. Circulation staffers conduct a subscription campaign and distribute the newspaper and yearbook to Ripple's student body. Exchange editors send Riparians to schools in 30 states.

Ripple's publicity agents serve on the Riparian News Bureau. To keep Ripple's name in the news, the Bureau keeps tabs on school events and corresponds with downtown papers. Seated are Dick Nay, Gretchen Stahl, Sue Quino, and Judy Brown. Standing is Dave Mannweiler.

Everyone reads the Riparian. Distributing the Riparian around Ripple and across the nation is a full-time job for the circulation and exchange staffs. Standing are Rosanne Linville, John Nelson, Quentin Davis, and Steve Olvey, members of the circulation staff. Seated are the exchange editors Susie Scott and Donna Daubenspeck.

Planning pictures for the 1960 yearbook, staffers practice cropping and drawing layouts. In the back row are Susie Lancet, Linda Medley, Larry Morrison, Peg Colvin, Trude Bennett, Ralph Coble, Dee Stanton, and Tom Merrill. Seated are Carole Closterhouse, Penny Bowen, Marci Fox, Mary Lou Newburn, Linda Sexton, and David Hadley.

Broad Ripple's spirit and personality in print

by Susie Lancet

Frantic activity punctuated by the laughter and groans of staff members bustling to meet earlier-than-ever deadlines characterizes the Riparian Yearbook Office. Copy writing and fitting, picture scheduling and cropping, typing, proofreading, and facing frequent crises occupy much of the time of both the editorial and ad staffs. Inspired by such signs as "Quiet, Genius Asleep" and the frequent celebration of "We Hate the Editor Day," the staff and its sponsors, Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs and Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes, strive to capture Ripple's personality in print. In addition to the Columbia Medalist award, the 1959 Riparian Yearbook, for the 11th consecutive year, received the National Scholastic Press Association's All-American Rating, the highest award for yearbooks.

Work begins on the yearbook long before school opens in the fall. Both yearbook and newspaper staffers attend summer press institutes at Florida State University, Indiana University, Northwestern University, Pennsylvania State University, University of Michigan, and University of Tennessee. This year nine of the 24 staff members attending institutes copped awards for outstanding work in yearbook and newspaper editing.

Financial wizards, Janie Garten, Bonnie Boyd, Pete Barrick and Ken Decker, yearbook ad and business managers, discuss ad pictures to be used in the 1960 Riparian.

Campaign posters, parties, and pep talks keep juniors busy planning for class officer elections. Betty Sechrist helps Wally Orr decorate the cafeteria with catchy posters.

Freshmen Larry Hall and Frank Mills rely on a new students' manual to guide them through Ripple's halls.

1988 students jam Ripple, prepare for future

"Move over!" Chattering students throng the halls between classes. The new wing will eliminate many traffic jams.

Outstanding faculty boosts school's standing

Ripple boasts an outstanding faculty. Teachers hold 102 bachelor's degrees, 66 master's degrees, and two doctor's degrees. Eight hold offices or chairmanships in professional organizations, and five have written recent articles for professional publications. Last summer found 22 teachers attending professional workshops, institutes, and conferences.

John E. Williams, Science Department head, and Glen D. Vannatta, Mathematics Department head, are textbook authors in their respective fields. Dr. Vannatta has earned the honor of appearing in Who's Who in American Education. R. Lowell Hicks of Ripple's Science Department is on a year's leave of absence to take part in a traveling science teacher program.

At Ripple, emphasis is placed on a well-rounded education. Over half the faculty sponsor co-curricular clubs and act as chairmen for student activities. Each year the hard work of teachers is rewarded by the graduation of another class of Ripplites who are ready to take their places as adult American citizens.

Conferring on school policy, Superintendent of Schools George F. Osteimer and Broad Ripple Principal J. Fred Murphy plan the academic program to be used for the coming school year.

Setting administrative policies are Warren K. Jackson, dean of boys, and Harold Harding and Roger Riley, vice-principals.

Dean of girls Mrs. Rosalind Ewing helps girls with social and academic problems. Calls to parents take much of her time.

Whirlwind of activities culminates in graduation

Striving to launch the Senior Class into a successful year at Ripple, the 404 members of the Class of '60 dashed into a whirlwind of studies and activities.

Class elections were held, senior committees appointed, and class dues collected. At Christmas, seniors brightened the school with a Christmas tree and traditional decorations. Looking to the future, they buckled down to the books and waded into finals and "College Boards" with typical skepticism. Sectional time brought raspy throats. For the last time, seniors rooted for Ripple in the Butler Fieldhouse. As graduation drew near seniors realized they would soon say farewell to the familiar jammed lockers, the ever-present Form 15's, and the grating clamor of construction crews working on Ripple's new wing.

After a dazzling prom and a reverent Baccalaureate, on June 13, seniors attended commencement exercises at the Hilton U. Brown Theatron. That evening, as Ripple alumni, the ex-seniors attended the Grad Dance. High school years were over.

Leading the seniors in their class projects are Stan Isaac, Marsha King, Bill Hawley, and Kathy Bowen, class officers.

Members of senior homeroom listen attentively to announcements given daily by Albert Mahin, the Senior Class sponsor.

Decorating Ripple for Christmas is the project of the Senior Class. A cafeteria Christmas tree is the main decoration.

"Homemaker of the future." This title shines on the first-place medal Cindy Cunningham won in the Betty Crocker Homemaking Contest.

Ripplites uphold school spirit, preserve tradition

Ripple's underclassmen came to school in the fall expecting a year of hard work and achievement, of social activity and fun.

The freshmen were confused by Ripple's 32 levels of halls and overwhelmed by increased academic requirements. However, they soon found their places in high school, and in co-operation with the sophomores presented the Freshman-Sophomore Talent Show under the direction of Gene Poston. They then began plans for Career Day, a day devoted to vocational planning.

Juniors plastered the cafeteria with posters and campaign slogans and began their year with the election of class officers. Officers and class members immediately began to raise the $2500 necessary for their class projects. Aided by class sponsor Arnold Pahmeier, they sold class rings, sponsored a Junior Dance, and gave the Junior-Senior Prom at the Indiana Roof.

Having met their goals and grown a year older, underclassmen received final grades and made preparations for another year at Ripple.

Junior officers Kathy Zimlich, Janet Bradford, Jim Richter, and Larry Morrison brush up on parliamentary procedure as they prepare for a busy year of leading the junior class.

Falling books, crumpled wads of paper, and a cascade of outdated homework introduce freshman Jim Allen to "the crowded locker problem." Graduation seems to be the only solution.

The twenties roar again as sophomores Mary Irwin and Joel Hamilton do the Charleston in the annual Freshman-Sophomore Talent Show. The couple have danced together for 10 years.

Back of the yearbook

Writing and rewriting copy, cropping and recropping pictures, drawing and redrawing layouts—all of these combined to create havoc, hysteria, headaches, and finally the Riparian yearbook. Staffers laughed at a million private jokes, cried over a million solutionless crises, and spent a million endless hours producing the 174 pages of type and pictures which are the 1960 Riparian.

Early last spring, planning began for the 1960 edition. Editors selected a theme and began to worry about types and engraving screens. What would look best? What would fit the budget? Problems were profuse. Without the expert advice of printer Jerry Nieten of Miles Press and artist-photographer Richard Brier of the Capitol Engraving Company, the yearbook would never have been. Other professional help came from photographer Max Galloway, who took senior portraits, and the Indianapolis News, Times, and Star, who contributed pictures for various sections.

The 1960 Riparian is printed in Futura Medium type. Headlines are 30 point; body copy, 12 point; idents, 10 point; and album liners, 9 point. Engravings are 133-line copper except for ad panels which are 120-line alloy. Color sketches are in process blue and were drawn by Mr. Brier.

Guiding the staff throughout the year were sponsors Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs and Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes who alternately sympathized, watched, posted edicts, and cracked the whip.

Gag shot? No this actually happened to the 1960 yearbook staff—on deadline day! Electricians cut a power line to the new addition, and suddenly everything went black. The presses had to roll, so editors Web Wright, Judy Gilliom, Cindy Cunningham, and Linda Dorntge got out the candles. Web sports a beard grown for the Ripples.
